 A Condition That Returns to Poor. The girl who returns to poor condition after a beautiful summer vacation is not alone. It is a common occurrence. The reason is that the skin has become so used to the sun that it cannot stand the cold weather. The skin becomes dry and cracked, and the face loses its natural beauty. The only way to prevent this is to use a good skin cream during the summer months.

Corn and Alfalfa are not available on the farm for silage this year, but the sunflower promises to be the main ingredient of the mixture. Excellent results have been secured from the feeding of sunflower silage to dairy cows.
